Evanced Takes Program and Meeting Room Planning to the Next Level

INDIANAPOLIS, IN – February 10, 2009 — Evanced Solutions begins 2009 with the launch of version 6.7 of the company's full-featured Events and Room Reserve software. Version 6.7 of the two modules introduce many new features in addition to improving features from version 6.0 released last year.

Two of the most awaited additions include E-commerce / online payment options for Room Reserve and user account permissions for both modules. The online payment option allows customers to pay for room usage fees and deposits online with their credit card thereby further streamlining the request and reservation process. The staff user account permission feature will provide libraries with greater flexibility and control in assigning permissions to specific staff users as well as will provide better audit trails.

Other popular features include:

- Improved bulk processing for publishing and archiving
- Enhanced rooms conflict page
- Added link to subscriber list, which shows directly what patron is subscribed to what notification list
- New Digg and Delicious options
- Improved cancellation of recurring reservations
- New pop-up staff notifications

Additional information about version 6.7 is available on the Evanced Solutions blog www.evanced.blogspot.com and the Evanced website at www.evancedsolutions.com.
